FRANCIS SILVERTHORN of Summerville

Francis Silverthorn, farmer & miller, was born in 1815 the eldest son of Aaron Silverthorn & Mary Custead of Summerville, Ontario. His grandparents, John Silverthorn & Esther Corwin were United Empire Loyalists coming originally from New Jersey, settling at Lundy's Lane in 1786 and moving to Summerville in 1810. All these folk are buried in the old cemetery at Dixie. Francis Silverthorn built a sawmill & a gristmill at Meadowvale. To the house he built & which still stands at Meadowvale he took two brides. First Susannah Mercer (member of a Peel Co. family, aunt of General Mercer) mother of his eldest child Susannah and second Mary Cheyne (one of the Cheynes of Peel Co. of whom you could get information from Mrs L. Cheyne, Box 24, Brampton, Ont.) the mother of all his other children. Some of his children, among them Mrs Glassford were born in the house at Meadowvale. While at Meadowvale he was interested in the building of plank roads in the county. From Meadowvale Mr Silverthorn moved to a farm he owned known as the Carleton property situated where the Toronto suburban district Silverthorn now is. After a short time there he moved to the "Old Mill Place" at Summerville the property of his brother Newman and which is now being operated by Mr Gideon Silverthorn of Summerville. Here Mr Silverthorn used the Etobicoke to drive a gristmill & a sawmill & he built the present house & there his second wife died. He pioneered for several years at Stayner, Ont. but returned & married Mrs Wilson at Summerville & died there in 1894.

Mr Silverthorn had wide interests other than those of his vocation of farmer & miller. He was a clear & original thinker, a man of deep piety but no mere sectarian. He was the organiser & superintendent of the first Sunday School at Bethesda Church

FRANCIS SILVERTHORN of Summerville Ont.

Summerville & his daughter Mrs Glassford (Jennie Silverthorn) was the first organist in that church & played there for years. He was a great cattle fancier & was one of the first owners of Holsteins in the country importing his original stock from Holland. He was an ardent & successful apiarist & a pioneer - years ahead of his time, we are all doing now what he then advocated - in the field of dietetics & right living. Silverthorn's "honey & hard tack" are still a byword.

It is interesting to know that Mr Silverthorn's granddaughter Mrs Ward Hager of Allenburg, Ont. owns a farm deeded to Mrs Hager's mother by her grandfather Aaron Silverthorn. This possibly may be, though we are not sure, the original U.E.L. grant to the Silverthorns.

Francis Silverthorne, Grand Juryman, General Quarter Sessions of the Peace, 1849.

In Temperance File.)

Mr. Silverthorne of Meadowvale, was no doubt interested in Temperance, as on Christmas Day, 1849, there was a grand tea meeting held in the largest building available at that time, which was a loft over a pig pen owned by him and situated where the copper shop stands today. This meeting was in the interests of Temperance.

(For full account of this, see item "Methodism in Meadowvale", taken from The Conservator, March 30th, 1900. - and filed in Temperance File.)
